Hoi An “Cao Lầu” Noodle / Cao Lầu Hội An The name of this famous local noodle dish means “high floor”, dated simply back to the time when it was served to traders, who dined right on the roof of their boats. This is considered as the true authentic food of Hoi An ancient town. This noodle is yellow, served with shrimp, pork, fresh vegetables and very little broth. The color yellow is mastered from egg and the essence of local herbs, it is believed to represent the wealth of royalty. Made from selected young rice with great quality, “Cao Lầu” has a fine combination of sour, spicy, bitter, fresh vegetables, flavorful sauce and delicious aroma at every bite	80.000
White Rose / Bánh Hoa Hồng Trắng Dumpling cake is a typical but special dish in the old town Hoi An. As its name gave it away, the cakes are made from rice flour and pork like tender silky white roses on a plate	85.000
